Producer information

In ’88 Jean-Claude and his wife Christiane relocated from the suburbs to Christiane’s father’s two-hectare vineyard located near the tiny village of Chichée, just south of Chablis. They have recently retired from making wine and their daughter Nathalie has taken over the winemaking reins. The Oudin’s now possess 8 hectares of vines and most of the vines have a south and south-west exposure and are located on the hilltops which surround the village of Chichée.
