Poggiosecco Chianti

Tuscany, Italy

Call it bang for your buck: one of the most famous Italian red wine appellations + organically grown grapes from one of the first members of the Consorzio del Chianti. All the racy spiciness and tannins of Sangiovese, underlined by plump dark fruit. Great with roasted and grilled meats.

Poggiosecco Ginestretto Rosso Toscana

Tuscany, Italy

The locally typical Sangiovese for spicy liquorice and distinct tannins, a dash of Merlot for the pleasant fruity roundness: voila the recipe for a charming, everyday Italian red coming from the organic vineyards of one of the first members of the Consorzio del Chianti. Great with roasted and grilled meats.

Poggiosecco Etrah Bianco

Tuscany, Italy

Vermentino is a beautiful Mediterranean grape, full of lemony sap, aromatic herbs and nice marine touch - and this lively pet-nat, unfiltered, unsulfured and undisgorged, offers a charming picture of it. Serve on its own during a dolce vita moment, or pair with simple fish dishes.
